ISLAND NOTES

Athens

- Pack one evening outfit for The Dolli; everything else is beach and walking.
- Skip the Plaka souvenir streets. The food tour covers the neighborhoods worth your time.
- Cards work everywhere on the Riviera. Take a little cash for the tour tips.

Milos

- The western beaches are dirt track. The ATV is fine; a rental car would not be.
- Sarakiniko is best before 7:00 AM. After that it is everyone's photo.
- The boat day carries lunch, towels and snorkels. Bring reef-safe sunscreen only.

Sifnos

- Beaches need wheels. The ATV is booked from the hotel; Stamna holds the keys.
- Cash for the small tavernas and the Narlis Farm shop. The ATM is in Apollonia.
- Fykiada is a walk in. Water shoes, and leave before the afternoon wind.

Santorini

- Oia is stairs. Andronis handles the luggage; you carry nothing.
- Change money before you arrive; the caldera ATMs charge accordingly.
- The catamaran cruise runs even in a stiff breeze. If it cancels, I already know, and the fallback is a private sunset table.

THE PART YOU ARE ACTUALLY PAYING FOR

When a ferry does not run, you text me.

The meltemi comes up and the afternoon boat is cancelled. It happens on a real percentage of Cyclades trips. You do not call the ferry company. I rebook the crossing or put you on a private boat, move the hotel night, push the dinner and tell the next hotel you are arriving late. You find out about it after it is solved.
